

ASIA LYONS

Asia Lyons is the founder and lead consultant for Lyons Educational Consulting LLC, a consulting and coaching firm that supports schools and other non-profits in their creation of culturally responsive programming and curriculum. Lyons Educational Consulting also focuses on supporting families in having race, racism, and anti-racism conversations through a Facebook group platform.

Prior to founding Lyons Educational Consulting, Asia worked as a K-12 educator in the Cherry Creek School District in Colorado for over 10 years. She also served as the school-partner specialist in an Aurora-based non-profit, a role in which she worked with schools and other non-profits across the Denver Metro Area in order to provide communities with resources to help close the access gap for children of color.

In addition to her work in coaching and consulting, Asia is also an adjunct instructor in the School of Education and Human Development at the University of Colorado - Denver. She is also pursuing her doctorate in Leadership for Educational Equity, where her research focuses on the ways that racism-related stress crosses over from Black educators to their families. She also is the co-host of The Exit Interview, a podcast focusing on the lived experience of former Black educators.

Asia and her husband Cliff are both from Detroit and have been married for 13 years. They have a beautiful daughter, Zoe.
